Press Release (immediate release)

“Miss Chinese International Pageant 2014” Grace Chan from Hong Kong was crowned the champion

(Hong Kong – 26 Jan 2014) The annual beauty contest “Miss Chinese International Pageant 2014” (MCIP) was held tonight (26 Jan) at TVB City in Hong Kong. 16 beauties from worldwide competed against each other with their beauty and glamour to pursue the title “Miss Chinese International 2014”. The beauties showcased their charisma and glamour during the contest. After fierce competition, Grace Chan from Hong Kong stood out and obtained “Miss Chinese International 2014” award!

This year, the pageant was hosted by Eric Tsang, Eric Moo and Maria Luisa Leitao De.. The panel judges were consisted of five members from various professional aspects, including celebrity Ms Ellen Wong, Mr Hacken Lee, Ms Kathy Chow, celebrity Mr William Leung, BBS, Jp, and Mr Peter Pang, JP, were invited to brought more challenges to the contestants and selected the potential star for the crown. VIP judges were also invited to the pageant, including Jason Chan, Vincent Wong, Fred Cheng, Leanne Li, Tracy Ip, Tracy Chu, Lin Xia Wei, Janis Chan, Whitney Hui, Benjamin Yuen, William Chak, Jesse Shun, Vivien Yeo, Elaine Yiu, Jack Wu, Toby Chan, Mat Yeung, Candy Chang, Hubert Wu and Luk Ho Ming. The difficulty of the pageant was further enhanced by adopting the elimination system for the first time.

16 beauties were arranged to dress in elegant evening white dresses and greet the judges and audiences after the opening parade. Dressed in black evening dresses, 14 contestants were selected to the next round – Q&A session led by the emcees. After the Q&A session, 4 contestants were eliminated and 10 contestants remained to compete in the swimming suit session. 10 contestants exuded their charisma in the Q&A session hosted by the VIP judges, and 6 contestants were selected afterwards to compete for the positions of 5 finalists in the talent session. The performances performed by the 6 beauties in the talent session included No.5 Grace Chan performing flute and singing; No. 6 Zhiny Ooi performing modern dance; No. 8 Zhang Yamin performing Chinese dance; No.9 Lorigiano Ting-Li Lucia performing the passionate Cha-cha; No.10 Zhang Yuqing performing Street jazz; and No.16 Zhong Yi performing singing. 5 contestants were finally selected to enter the final round. They were Grace Chan (No.5, Hong Kong), Ooi Zhiny (No.6, Kuala Lumpur), Lorigiano Ting-Li Lucia (No.9, Montreal), Zhang Yuqing (No.10, New York) and Zhong Yi (No.16, Vancouver). 5 finalists unfolded their charm and wisdom again in another Q&A session hosted by the emcees. In addition, another dancing performance led by the 16 contestants heated up the atmosphere of the pageant!

After series of tough challenges, the result was finally announced: Grace Chan (No.5, Hong Kong), being the Champion of Miss Hong Kong last year, was crowned the “Miss Chinese International 2014”. Zhong Yi (No.16, Vancouver), whose singing performance had received claps and cheers, received the title “1st runner-up”. Meanwhile, the “2nd runner-up” went to Lorigiano Ting-Li Lucia (No.9, Montreal) by her passionate dancing performance. Mandi Cheung Pei Wen (No.13, Singapore) was voted as “Miss Friendship”.

“Miss Chinese International Pageant 2014” was both live and delay broadcast in countries including Singapore, Malaysia, Australia, New Zealand, USA, Canada, UK and Europe. With the birth of the
